Another GOLD Award For Rosborough Partners!

Residential Maintenance Gold Award

Our client built a new home in an established area with classic architecture, and they desired a home and landscape that would immediately blend in with the neighborhood. In addition, the narrow in-town lot would require a clever solution to providing privacy.

Riverstone seat walls and columns at the entrance provide an aura of permanence, and receive on-going inspection and cleaning from our team to maintain their structural integrity and appearance. Mature plant material benefits from seasonal pruning and inspections to retain good plant health and shape. In the backyard, privacy screening was created with a tall, narrow Carpinus hedge that we trim delicately to maintain its graceful proportions.

Distinctive details personalize the gardens, such as a custom boxwood parterre that is artistically pruned, and a unique garden sculpture nestled on an immaculately maintained crushed gravel base.

The homeowner's aesthetic exudes calm sophistication so their landscape had to reflect the same. The result is timeless elegance.
