The Importance Of Plant Health Care

Summer is the time of year when garden pests are active and plant diseases are plentiful, which is why diligent inspection of your gardens is so high on our priority list. Our PHC team keeps track of plant health care issues that arise throughout the Chicago area and receive training on all treatments in order to protect your investment. Be assured that while on site, our staff examines your plants for signs of pests and disease and will provide or recommend treatment as necessary.
