Selecting The Best Plants

Plant purchasing has been under way and it is a comprehensive process to ensure the healthiest, most beautiful plants are selected for your gardens. Rosborough Partners has developed relationships with a broad network of growers and suppliers across the country that we use to transform and enhance our clients' landscapes.

This month our Horticultural Purchasing Manager, Kim Hartmann, visited several nursery growers, public gardens, and the Philadelphia Flower Show in Pennsylvania to identify new sources for plant material. Kim reflects on her takeaway from the Flower Show, "The event highlighted the best varieties for landscaping and seasonal color, and we're excited to incorporate these ideas and plants into the custom design and installation work we provide to our clients."

Kim's quest to find the highest quality plant material on behalf of our clients did not end there. She also visited Longwood Gardens to identify new ideas for seasonal displays in containers and planting beds that will provide maximum visual impact and longevity. This year, tropical plants and new varieties of annuals are some of the most attractive and exciting choices.
